Dear Dr. rahmawati,

I am pleased to let you know that the second set of galley proofs of your Case Report 8131834 titled "Syndrome of Inappropriate Antidiuretic Hormone in Esophageal Cancer Patient," is ready. You can apply your corrections directly to the manuscript with the Online Proofing System (OPS).

Using the OPS, you can quickly and easily make corrections directly to your galley proofs and submit these corrections with a single click.

<https://ops.hindawi.com/author/8131834/>

If a new corresponding author is added, they must log into their manuscript tracking system account and add their ORCID ID. Any additional ORCID IDs added on during proofing will also need to be updated on that author's account. Delays can occur if this isn't done.

To expedite the publication of your manuscript, please send us your corrected galley proofs within two days.

Please ensure that you read the proofs thoroughly and make all necessary corrections at this stage. A second round of proofs may be requested only for checking essential changes or major revisions.

Dear Dr. Minhajat,

Thank you for contacting us. As your manuscript has taken longer than the average amount of time to review, we have made it a top priority.

Unfortunately, as we rely on external Editors and reviewers, the review process is occasionally delayed. This is not the normal review time for our journal.

I apologize for any inconvenience that this delay may have caused and am doing my best to expedite the review process.

Thank you for your patience and understanding.

In this unprecedented time Hindawi remains open and committed to publishing peer-reviewed academic work as normal. However, we realise that due to the current pandemic you may require more time to respond to us, or may even be unable to carry on with your normal academic activities. We are here to help and so if you are either unable to carry on or need more time, please reply to this email and we will work with you to find a solution.

Best regards,

Marvin

Dear Dr. minhajat,

This is regarding your manuscript titled "Syndrome of Inappropriate Antidiuretic Hormone in Esophageal Cancer Patient" in Case Reports in Oncological Medicine. Please register an ID with Open Researcher and Contributor ID (ORCID) and link it to your Manuscript Tracking System (MTS) account, as we need to include authors' ORCID IDs in the article metadata that we submit to various indexing services.

ORCID is an open, non-profit, community-based effort that has been created by a number of leading research funders, universities, and publishers to solve the name ambiguity problem in scholarly communications by creating a registry of persistent unique identifiers for individual researchers and an open and transparent linking mechanism between ORCID, other ID schemes, and research objects such as publications, grants, and patents.

In order to create an ORCID ID and link it to the MTS, please go to <http://mts.hindawi.com/orcid/> where you will be asked to log in using the email address "rahmawati.minhajat@gmail.com" and the password that you previously registered on the system. If you do not remember your password, you can use the following link to reset it: http://mts.hindawi.com/reset\_password/68121b17-73b7-480e-8789-f88b015cc6ad/. You will then be directed to ORCID.org where you can create your ID.

Please make sure to use the name format that is on the MTS when creating your ORCID ID, since it is highly preferred that you use the same format in all of the systems dealing with your professional activities. However, if your name on the MTS is not currently correct, let me know the format you prefer, and I will update it accordingly.

I look forward to your cooperation.
