This study is very interesting, yet it really needs to be evaluated grammatically. I started to edit as I thought there would be minimal corrections; however, the errors started to increase. A native English speaking academic researcher should review this manuscript prior to resubmitting it.	Thank you for giving valuable feedback for my paper's improvement We have proof of this paper on an English HCP to review this manuscript. This paper was also reviewed by an English-speaking academic researcher because she is one of authors in this paper.
I cannot figure out who the participants are (Parents? Babies?) Please clarify Page 3	Thank you for your inquiry The sample of this study was mothers who have a premature baby.

This topic is of great value to readers; however, there need to be many corrections for grammar. I would encourage the authors to get an English HCP to review this manuscript.	Thank you for giving valuable feedback for my paper's improvement We have proof of this paper on an English HCP to review this manuscript.
