KEYNOTE SPEECH

"THE GLOBAL PATTERN OF ALTERNATIVE FINANCE"

Professor Raghavendra Rau

Judge Business School University of Cambridge

Although various forms of alternative finance have long existed, the combination of weaker financial institutions following the financial crisis, disruptive disintermediation-enabling technology and underlying socio-economic as well as cultural shifts is challenging the paradigm of how finance will be provisioned in the future. The UK alternative finance industry alone has raised more than £1.6 billion for individuals, start-ups, small and medium firms, social enterprises and good causes between 2011 and 2015. Several economies, particularly the US, Europe and emerging markets, are already witnessing significant alternative capital formation and financing activities in venture capital, consumer credit, SME finance, high-tech and creative industries, social impact investing, development and renewable energy sectors.

However, little academic research is currently available to inform policy makers, regulators, industry players and other stakeholders about why various forms of alternative finance are emerging or how new financing instruments and intermediaries are functioning and evolving. There are a number of unanswered research questions of relevance to these stakeholders. How and why do funders invest, lend or donate through alternative finance channels? From fundraisers' perspective, how do they compare alternative finance instruments and channels with financing alternatives available via the traditional financial system? In a macro-economic context, is alternative finance expanding the existing pool of capital/credits or merely rechanneling it? What is the socio-economic impact of alternative finance in terms of job creation, revenue generation and community engagement at local, regional and national levels? Do some economies have a comparative advantage in enabling alternative finance, and if so, why? How will public policy and regulations affect the trajectories of alternative finance? Are developments in alternative finance a threat or an opportunity for incumbent financial institutions, and how is their response influencing broader change within the financial system?
