Dear Dr. Bahar,

We received the revised manuscript at 1-11. And there are still some questions:

1. All references should be cited in maintext. References in Table 1 could cited in the sentence "Whilst there is currently a lack of studies comparing the two paradigm approaches, we have summarized individual studies looking at either of the two approaches when feasible, with results summarized in Table 1". And the order of references should be revised again.
2. We shielded the privacy of the patient. Please check the file and make sure the modification is correct.

We have send more than one email and mentioned you in our system. If you did not reply in a week, the manuscript may be withdrawn.

If there are any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Dear Dr Chang,

Apologies for my late response, we will take care of the revisions as soon as possible.
Will you please allow 1 more week for the revisions?

I would also like to confirm that the status of the manuscript is for the World Journal of Clinical Cases, and not the Pediatrics journal shown in the Email subject?

Thank you for your understanding.
Warm regards

Dear Dr Chang

Thank you for the opportunity to revise our manuscript.
To address the comments please refer to the point-by-point answers below:

1. All references should be cited in maintext. References in Table 1 could cited in the sentence "Whilst there is currently a lack of studies comparing the two paradigm approaches, we have summarized individual studies looking at either of the two approaches when feasible, with results summarized in Table 1". And the order of references should be revised again.

We have made the requested changes, with the latest revision attached in this email. All references have been re-ordered accordingly, and have been formatted in accordance to the WJoCC reference styling.

2. We shielded the privacy of the patient. Please check the file and make sure the modification is correct.

We have checked the document you sent with the personal information shielded, and we confirm that the modification is correct.

Thank you again for your patience, have a nice day.

Warmest regards
