Dear Dr. Rosana Agus

Thank you for the manuscript you sent. Before we publish, there are several things that must be corrected by the author, including:

1. We prioritize library resources from international journals, preferably some of the libraries we have given are replaced and updated to the latest international journals.
2. The citation system used in the International Journal of APplied Biology is a system of quotes directly to the name of the author, and not using numbers. Please correct immediately and send it back to us. Thank you.
