Dear,
Ms. Sylvie Yang
Assistant Editor of the Education Sciences

We thank the Editorial Board of the Education Sciences for accepting the research paper with Manuscript ID: education-1998698, entitled "Team-Assisted Individualization Type of Cooperative Learning Model for Improving Mathematical Problem Solving, Communication, and Self-Proficiency: Evidence from Operations Research Teaching." Before we wire-transfer the article processing charge for our manuscript that is accepted, we need confirmation from the Editorial Board of the Education Sciences as to the following questions:

1. We need confirmation from the editorial board that our manuscript is going to be published in a REGULAR edition, NOT in a special issue and related matters. We have asked for this confirmation in an email we sent on Monday, October 17, 2022, at 1:09 PM, but have not replied to the request for confirmation by the Editor.

2. After finalizing the layout and English proofreading by the Editor, we ask for 3 - 5 days to reduce our manuscript's similarity index (tested with Turnitin). When we submitted the submission on October 14, 2022, the similarity index level we checked was 23%. With the post-revised condition, we must ensure that the similarity index of our manuscript is to be a maximum of 20%. This is due to a new regulation by the Government of Indonesia for professional lecturers in Indonesia that the maximum similarity level of research published in International Journals must be a maximum of 20%. Therefore, we asked for about 3 - 5 days to reduce the similarity index.

3. Due to several changes to the manuscript in the revision process, we ask the Editor to make adjustments to this manuscript's metadata for the journal's publication process.

We thank the Editorial Board of the Education Sciences for cooperation and attention. We are waiting for confirmation and answers to our questions.

Kind regards,

On behalf of the authors,
